As with all pets it is best to provide the largest habitat that you can afford. A minimum size for one budgie is 45cmW x 45cmD x 60cmH. The bars on the cage should be no wider than 1cm. Perches need to be a variety of textures, widths and lengths. This variety will exercise your bird's feet, keep its claws trim and aid in the prevention of arthritis.

One of the books I have (but am yet to read) is COLLINS Family Pet Guides BUDGERIGAR by David Alderton ISBN 0-00-712284-5. It has some mutations in it that I'm pretty sure will fool even the most experienced mutation enthusiast. Another book that contains a mating chart is: BUDGERIGARS all you need to know by Michael S. Christian ISBN 0-07-470361-7
